Company Complaint Index

The Complaint Index is used to compare a company's performance to other companies in the market. The National Complaint Index is always 1.00. This means a company with a complaint index of 2.00 has a complaint index that is twice as high as expected in the market.

The Company Complaint Index is determined by dividing the Company's share of complaints in the U.S. market by the Company's share of premiums in the U.S. market.
